The Broker Responsibility Working Group (BRWG) recommended that ESAC open the Property Management qualifying course outline for review. TREC staff presented a draft course approval form to the committee during the meeting based on the committee's recommendations. ESAC approved the changes, including changing the course name to Residential Property Management Course, and recommended the Commission propose the revised course outline at its February 13 meeting.

The committee at its last meeting discussed making the 30-hour Real Estate Brokerage course a mandatory course as part of the SAE requirement and agreed it would be beneficial for sales agents and ultimately consumers. TREC staff presented a draft an amendment to 535.55, Education and Sponsorship Requirements for Sales Agent License, to address this. The committee approved the draft amendment and recommended the Commission propose it at its February 13 meeting.
